Green campus initiatives at the institution focus on promoting sustainability and environmental responsibility. These include implementing energy-efficient systems, such as solar panels and LED lighting, to reduce energy consumption. The campus also prioritizes water conservation through rainwater harvesting systems and the use of low-flow fixtures. Additionally, the institution has established a comprehensive waste management program, encouraging recycling and composting. Green spaces are maintained with native plants. Regular planting of annuals and perennial shrubs/trees and managed tending and cultural operations are carried out all around the campus to ensure that aesthetics are intact in suitable landscapes. Sustainability is further promoted through educational programs and campaigns, raising awareness among students and staff about the importance of eco-friendly practices to encourage bicycles, battery-operated vehicles and restricted use of automobiles. These initiatives reduce the campus's carbon footprint and foster an environmentally conscious community. Pedestrian-friendly pathways are available inside the institute from Gate No-2 to the Sports Board. The university has banned the use of plastic r drinking water bottles.
