

Students of Tripura University deputed for attending Seminar on “Prospects of Agarwood Sector” at 34th Tripura Industries and Commerce Fair, 2024 on 31st January 2024 at 2pm

Thirty students and scholars from Department of Microbiology and Department of Forestry and Biodiversity of Tripura University were deputed for attending the seminar on “Prospects of Agarwood Sector” at the 34th Tripura Industries and Commerce Fair, 2024, organized by NTFP Centre of Excellence (NCE), Forest Department, Government of Tripura. The IQAC takes the initiative of ensuring overall development of the next generation manpower to make them innovative with inculcation of the spirit of entrepreneurship. The selection was based on the response received from the Head of the Departments in response to the call for nomination.

The seminar aimed to provide a platform for the exchange of knowledge and awareness about the Agarwood plantations in Northern Tripura, different methods to increase agarwood production, different uses of agarwood other than conventional agar use and the future scopes of the agar industry.
